TCP is opening our home in the heart of Roxbury to our Creative Community. If you're a socially conscious artist or cultural practitioner looking for a place to meet with clients, have some workspace out of your home, receive mail, or use a studio, conference room and lab, then look no further! In addition to co-work space, we offer:

- Paid opportunities to teach in schools

- Fundraising support and mentoring

- Regular artist newsletter with upcoming opportunities

- Monthly professional development workshops

- A growing network of other artists

- Paid opportunities to mentor youth artists

all for a customized, affordable cost right sized for you!
